

NO RACE TO PHOENIX SAYS EL PASO MAN

Telegraph wires between El Paso and Phoenix were kept warm during the last few days with questions from W. E. Ferguson, of Phoenix, and M. L. Naguin, of El Paso, regarding the coming road race.

Some time ago it was announced that the El Paso road race for this fall and the winter would be in San Diego, Cal., and not pass through Phoenix as first.

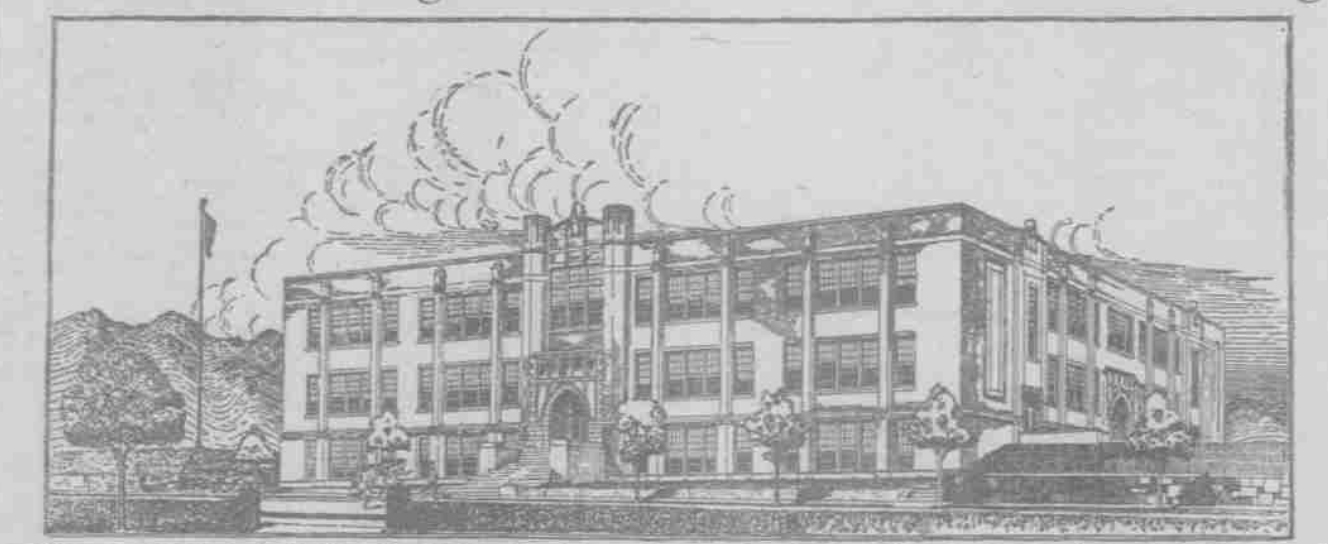

The first telegram received in El Paso from Mr. Ferguson stated that Phoenix had raised $1000 for the El Paso-Phoenix road race this fall and the winter. Mr. Naguin stated that the only race he was interested in was the El Paso-San Diego road race, scheduled to be run in February next year.

This answer brought Chas. Stamber and Sidney Wolf, of Phoenix, to this city for a direct interview with Mr. Naguin. According to Mr. Naguin, Phoenix had put him to a great deal of inconvenience last year in not procuring its share of the princely money for the race. "When we had all the entries in and the race ready to start I called on the Phoenix authorities for the money," said Mr. Naguin. "They told me they had nothing to contribute. I have waited an entire year to tell Phoenix something and when the two Phoenix representatives came here I did so."

Refusing to be taken in by the "Bos" Blumhardt and C. H. Lester on the prebunking trip now laying out the route from El Paso to San Diego by way of Las Cruces, Deming, Lordsburg, Douglas, Silver, Tucson, Alamo and Yuma.

The underlying reason for the change of route are two. First road racing in the southwest is promoted primarily to open new roads. It has been the desire for many years to have an all winter route from El Paso to San Diego. The former route from El Paso to Phoenix and from Phoenix

Questions and Answers.

Q. Was Theodore Roosevelt's father ever defeated for a public office?

A. He was nominated by president Hayes for the office of collector of the port of New York to succeed Olin Arthur, but the senate refused to confirm him.

Q. What must I do to become naturalized, having been an alien by marrying to a British subject?

A. The naturalization bureau says that when an alien woman marries a foreigner, she takes his citizenship. If her husband dies, or she has been divorced from him, she automatically becomes a citizen of the United States again.

Q. Where was the first interurban car in this country put in operation?

A. The first interurban car in the United States ran from Anderson, Ind., January 1, 1889.

Q. What is the meaning of the picture "Hope" showing a blindfolded woman sitting on a globe?

A. It is said that George Frederic Watts, the painter, attempted an allegorical story in his picture of "Hope," blindfolded and sitting upon a globe, building a barge in her hands. The first impression upon looking at this picture is that it is a picture of "Hope" but the chief significance is an endeavor to show that while hope may cover in the darkness of struggle, there is still one thing which never quite snags. This is the hope of the world.

Q. Where is the largest artificial body of water in the United States?

A. The geographical survey states that the largest purely artificial lake in the United States is the Elephant Butte reservoir, New Mexico. It has an area of 10,889 acres and a capacity of 2,618,000 acre feet.

Q. What was the amount of marine insurance written by the government during the war?

A. The bureau of war risk insurance says that according to the records the net amount of insurance written on hulls, freight and passage money, cargoes and personal effects between April 4, 1917, and November 1, 1918, amounted to $1,938,938,122.

Q. Who was the author of the phrase "I was fired by the great American eagle and tested by a camouflaged dam"?

A. Mark Twain in the Virginia City Enterprise.

Q. What is meant by Roman law?

A. The term "Roman Law" is used somewhat ambiguously but most commonly at the present day, in reference to the body of civil law. It includes all of the laws of the Roman state from Romulus to the time of Justinian.

Q. What is the true relation of the north star to the north pole?

Short Vamp Shoes - By EDNA KENT FORBES

THE fashion for short vamp shoes and a round toe, which I have been predicting for some time, seems by now well established. In Europe they are wearing nothing else, except in the American shoe stores, and then the long vamp and the pointed toe comes only in styles really made in America.

Some time ago, several cities of southern Arizona let it be known that they had no contribution for any road race that passed through Phoenix. The reason is political and they say it has to do with an attempt on the part of Phoenix to get the state to pay that a majority of the sub-highway commission will be from Maricopa county.

Mr. Naguin says it is too late to change the plans and that the only road race El Paso will help to promote this year is between El Paso and San Diego by way of Tucson and Alamo.

On the whole, it's a good fashion unless it is carried to extremes—but then few things are good when they are carried to extremes. The danger in short vamp shoes is getting the vamp too short with a heel too high for that case there is no support for the arch of the foot. The shoes being made in some European countries—especially Germany—are so short that the vamp doesn't cover the foot. Then in order to keep the shoe on at all, a strap has to be put around the ankle. This, of course, is done to a lesser degree, which there is very little over there.

However, on our side of the ocean, we insist on a fair share of common sense. So in likely that short vamp shoes will not be out in extreme lines. And the round toe which is coming back, and which is so much more beautiful than the pointed toe, will give us greater comfort, will save us corns and bunions, and chilblains, and, incidentally, allow our feet to retain some of their lost beauty of shape.

By the way, round the short vamp shoes will make the foot look much smaller. And narrower, too—though this will be disputed by makers of long vamps, because it permits better fitting shoes. And if you wear a moderately high heel, a short vamp and round toe—and a large buckle or bow on your slipper—you will make your feet look two sizes smaller than it really is. Could there be a stronger argument for short vamp shoes?

High Cost of Food Does Not Trouble This Goat Dairyman

To have a waiting list of customers on your books would seem to be only a star to a business to air at, but there is one man in El Paso who claims that distinction. John Salopek, who runs a goat dairy on the east slope of Mt. Franklin, near Grandview addition, says goats milk is in such demand for El Paso babies and health seekers that he could readily dispose of a much larger supply if he could obtain it.

Salopek is not concerned by the high cost of feed. His herd of 100 goats sustains a substantial output on the barren slope of the mountain with little or no assistance. Neither does the problem of labor worry him, as he does all the work himself, caring for and milking over 80 head and making his deliveries.

Goat's milk, he says, is much richer than cow's, containing about 7 percent butter fat to 3 1/2 percent for the latter. A valuable property in its immunity from the curdling process that the digestive fluids of the stomach cause in cow's milk.

British Can't Keep The Irish Constabulary Up

Bublin, Ireland, Oct. 7.—The importance attached by the government to the maintenance of the morale of the Irish police is shown by the fact that it has taken the unprecedented step of publishing a newspaper called "The Weekly Summary" for circulation in all the police barracks. Three numbers have already been distributed to the police. It contains editorializing the force, and assuring them of support in their trying situation.

The resignations from the Royal Irish Constabulary and additional pressure of patrol work have led to the recruiting of large numbers of men in England, principally former soldiers attracted by the high wages. The attitude of Sinn Féin toward them is one of extreme bitterness, while the old members of the force are more favorably looked on, and attempts are made to induce them to resign.

The new men could not be provided with the ordinary police uniform and have had to be content with a uniform partly police and partly military. This has earned them the nickname of "The Black and Tans."

An editorial comment in the police organ referring to hunger strikers in the prisons says: "Those who plot and participate in the murder of policemen, who are only doing their lawful duty, must not expect much sympathy when they are caught and get the punishment they richly deserve."

LOUVAIN IS BEING REBUILT FROM RUINS

Louvain, Belgium, Oct. 7.—From the ruins of Louvain, to which the Germans applied the torch on August 23, 1914, are springing dozens of modern buildings. They lack the historic interest of the destroyed structures, but an effort will be made to reconstruct Louvain as it was before the war.

The city presents to the stranger an unusual appearance—masses of ruins here, new five story buildings there with the old undestroyed buildings in sharp contrast.

No efforts have yet been made to rebuild the famous library. The Belgian government, however, is gradually finding in Germany traces of many of the priceless manuscripts and other books looted from the library by the Germans.

Facts about the beard

How to eliminate hot towels and finger-rubbing in shaving

Every hair of the beard is coated with a natural oil. And that oil has been an obstacle in shaving.

The ordinary shaving soap or cream fails to cope effectively with this oil. Thus the beard cannot absorb water enough or quickly enough to make the hair cut easily. That is why men have had to use hot towels and rub the beard with the fingers—to force moisture into the beard.

A better way

Hot towels make the skin too tender. Finger rubbing means delay.

And with Palmolive Shaving Cream, these methods are not needed. For this is a lather that instantly emulsifies the oil-coating on the beard. Thus the water penetrates the stiffest beard quickly. And each hair is easy to cut.

Both lather and lotion

Our cream contains both Palm and Olive oils. So it is a lather as well as a lotion. It gives the face a refreshing feeling of coolness, such as you've never before experienced after shaving.

Try it free

Send for a free trial tube. Mark what a wonderful difference when you shave with Palmolive. Note how nicely the razor slips over the face, for this cream lubricates the shave.

See, too, how prolific our cream is. It multiplies itself in lather 250-fold. One-half gram—a mere bit—you will note, suffices for a shave. A single tube supplies 152 shaves. That's something else you've never had before.
